called to report the results of his session with Mike Glennon, Senate Foreign Relations Committee staff, and of his intent to see the staffers of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence on the possible conflict of jurisdiction between the Foreign Relations Committee and these Committees.

Referring to the blind siding of General Harold Brown, Secretary of Defense, [REDACTED] asked if we would permit a DIA representative to sit in on the Director's briefing on the Hill on the Korean question. I said I didn't know what the Director's attitude would be and certainly appreciate the problem, but we should also consider the impact of creating the impression that the DCI's testimony is being monitored by other Executive departments and agencies and I suggested that [REDACTED] also consider the alternative of our providing DOD with a copy of the testimony on the day that it is delivered, to be followed up with a call from us on the questions and answers that followed.
